Effective immediately, the following changes are made to each Fund’s prospectuses, excluding the Weatherbie Specialized Growth Portfolio:

The first paragraph in the section of each applicable Fund’s prospectuses entitled “Shareholder Information—Dividends and Distribution and Tax Consequences,” is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

[Except as noted below,] all Funds declare and pay dividends and distributions annually, and expect these payments to shareholders will consist primarily of capital gains, which may be taxable to you at different rates depending upon how long the Fund held the securities that it sold to create the gains (rather than the length of time you have held shares of the Fund), and that they will also include net investment income, which is taxable as ordinary income. Certain dividend income received by a Fund and paid to you may be subject to a maximum tax rate of 20% (qualified dividends); other income paid to you, such as non-qualifying dividend income or interest earned on debt securities held by the Fund, will continue to be taxed at the higher ordinary income rates. Participants in tax-deferred accounts ordinarily will not be subject to taxation on dividends from net investment income and net realized capital gains until they receive a distribution of the dividends from their individual plan accounts. Dividends and distributions may differ among classes of shares of a Fund. Unless your investment is in a tax-deferred account, you may want to avoid buying shares shortly before a Fund pays a dividend. If you buy shares when a Fund has declared, but not yet distributed ordinary income or capital gains, you will pay full price for the shares and then receive a portion of the price back in the form of a taxable dividend. In addition, it may be the case that a significant amount of the securities held by a Fund are held at values above their purchase price. The sale of such securities will generate capital gains, which will be distributed and taxable to you as described above if your investment is not in a tax-deferred account. Therefore, a substantial tax liability may arise for a shareholder who invests in the Fund when such conditions exist. Before investing you may want to consult your tax advisor.

(each, a “Fund” and collectively, the “Funds”)

Supplement dated June 15, 2020 to the Summary Prospectuses, Prospectuses and
 Statement of Additional Information (“SAI”) of each Fund

The following changes are made to each Fund’s summary prospectuses, prospectuses and SAIs, as applicable.

Share Class Conversion

Effective on or about the close of business on July 24, 2020, shareholders invested directly in Class B shares of the Funds (the “Original Shares”) will be converted into Class A shares of the Funds (the “New Shares”) with the same relative aggregate net asset value as the Original Shares held immediately prior to the conversion. The New Shares currently have lower total expense ratios, and equal or lower distribution fees and/or shareholder servicing fees payable under the Funds’ 12b-1 plans than the Original Shares. No sales load, fee, or other charge will be imposed on the conversion of these shares and, once converted, the New Shares will not be subject to the contingent deferred sales charge (if any) currently charged on the redemption of the Original Shares. Please refer to your Fund’s prospectus for more information on the New Shares. The conversion is not expected to be a taxable event for federal income tax purposes and should not result in recognition of gain or loss by converting shareholders. As disclosed in the Funds’ prospectuses, Class B and Class C shares are subject to limited availability and are no longer offered directly to shareholders. Shareholders investing directly in Class C shares were previously notified by the Fund and converted to Class A shares. Financial intermediaries may, in connection with a change in account type or otherwise in accordance with a financial intermediary’s policies and procedures, exchange one class of shares for Class A Shares of the same Fund. Shareholders should consult their financial intermediaries for the availability and timing of such exchanges. Going forward, if a shareholder transfers Class B or Class C shares of a Fund held through a financial intermediary to a direct account, such shares will be immediately converted into Class A shares of the Fund.
